Dear Charleston:

I guess you will not know what to think when you receive this letter right on top of the one I wrote yesterday. The fact is there has been a mixup. I don't suppose either of us should be too surprised. I can see after a little while in this baseball, anything that happens should not surprise any one.

Now I received a letter from Posey some time ago. In it he gave me the impression he had the booking rights of The Jacksonville Red Caps. Now that is the team I wanted in Daytona Beach Easter Sunday. I made it very clear to him in all my correspondence that I wanted that team. For one thing I have two very good dates in Jacksonville, and I certainly would be glad to give a date in return if it is possible. Well when I received a wire from Posey telling me I could have you or the Cubans I was sure Jacksonville was some place else. As soon as I wrote you, I received a letter from Mr. Greer telling me he was planning to come to Daytona Beach Easter Sunday.

I immediately wired Posey to find you something else, and I am following the wire with a letter asking him what happened. There is no possible chance that Posey could have misunderstood me. I made it very clear the team I wanted. It may be possible he thought Mr. Greer had gotten something else. Anyway, I have written Greer and told him he can have the day, and I hope you will be able to find some other spot. I am sure you expect your new team to have a little tough sledding for a while. I do hope you will have lots of luck.

Very Truly Yours
